

Dear Member:

As you are probably aware, IALA offers, as part of your active membership benefits, access to national paralegal publications. This year we are pleased to announce that every active member will have a choice between Paralegal Today and NALA's Facts & Findings! And that's not all!! If you are interested in receiving the other publication at a reduced rate, you can! By simply adding $30.00 to your active membership dues, IALA will secure your subscription to either Paralegal Today or NALA's Facts & Findings. IALA will take care of all the details and will make all the arrangements to have the additional publication sent to the address on your membership application unless you inform us otherwise.

Remember, you will receive one of the publications at no charge as part of your IALA active membership. The other is available to you at a substantial savings.

If you are an associate, sustaining or student member you can also gain access to these publications by choosing one subscription for $30.00 or both subscriptions for $60.00 in additional costs.

This is just another way that IALA membership benefits you, the paralegal. Simply complete the form below and return it along with your renewal application by February 1, 2011. We are proud to offer this additional service to our members and hope you will take advantage of the wealth of information provided in these publications.

Sincerely,

IALA Board of Directors

I would like to add a publication to my membership. Please forward me the publication I have chosen as indicated above. I understand that this will increase my membership cost by $30.00 and I have included that cost with my payment.
